GET INVOLVED IN THE KEY EVENT OF THE YEAR!

Security Minister John Hayes said:

National security and protecting the public are the first priorities of the Government.

Security & Policing is the only event of its kind to bring UK industry, law enforcement and security professionals together in a secure environment to showcase new technology that aims to tackle the changing nature of crime and drive the transformation of the police.

I look forward to attending this event and speaking about how we continue to cut crime and protect the public.

Security & Policing, the only Home Office event of its kind, provides the perfect opportunity to engage with the very highest level of security expertise.

Established as one of the most important events in the security calendar, this unique event is aimed at police, law enforcement and offender management professionals who are tasked with security, civil protection and national resilience.

Security & Policing enables those with operational needs to meet companies with the relevant solutions.

Exhibitors get the opportunity to display products that would be too sensitive to show in a more open environment. Visitors get to see the very latest products, services and technologies available – all within a secure environment.

SECURITY & POLICING LIVE!

Live demonstration arena for exhibitors to showcase products

For 2016, there will be a new purpose built arena in a key location, providing exhibitors with a stage to demonstrate products in a live environment. This year, supported by UK Border Force, the live demonstration area, sponsored by Crisis Cast, will feature an exciting and diverse range of cutting edge technologies and equipment from a host of exhibitors, addressing the growing need for border security solutions. Visitors will be able to hear about the very latest search techniques used, the equipment used to tackle border crime and watch a full programme of carefully arranged activities.

New Immersive Experience (Mock Embassy)

An exciting new addition to the event in 2016 will be a mock-up of a fictional embassy. Working closely with the Security Liaison Unit from the Metropolitan Police, Parliamentary and Diplomatic Protection, which is responsible for advising on protection of embassies and other diplomatic missions, we can guarantee that the very best of British standards will be displayed and promoted in this new feature.

Visitors and delegations will be able to see for themselves the many different elements of security afforded to protecting embassies. Throughout the day a live scenario/role play situation will take place to help visitors visualise such circumstances as a 'full security lock down' and see how the UK Security Industry can contribute to its effectiveness.

Live demonstration by the Home Office Security Innovation and Demonstration Centre (SIDC)

Proving to be a popular addition to Security & Policing 2015, a specially created live demonstration will take place throughout the duration of the 2016 event. Created by the Home Office Security Innovation and Demonstration Centre (SIDC) 'The 2016 live demonstration will be designed to illustrate how current and future online and digital capabilities can be utilised and integrated to create a mobile investigative capability for law enforcement agencies'.

MEET GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES

Government Zone

The central hub of the event - visitors and exhibitors can take advantage of the help and information available. High on the agenda for 2016 will be Police Transformation – a topic that sets serious challenges for all.

Meet with Government representatives to discuss the latest strategies, receive policy updates and understand the latest thinking. The areas represented include: Cyber Growth Partnership, Policing and Innovation, Border Force and National Security.

Free to attend Government briefing sessions

Originating from the Home Office and delivered from within the exhibition, the briefing programme provides a platform for senior government and security professionals to host a series of workshops and briefings providing insight, depth and clarity on key areas of Government planning, as well as information on current and future programmes. 2016 sessions will focus on three key themes:

- Abuse and protection of vulnerable people
- Economic crime
- Borders and Immigration

The Cyber threat continues to grow

The National Security Strategy categorised cyber-attacks as a Tier One threat to our national security, alongside international terrorism. The threat is real and growing. The UK government is constantly looking at new ways to protect businesses and make the UK more resilient to cyber-attacks and crime.

Cyber companies will have the opportunity to exhibit the very best of British capability. Exhibitors can also take part in an exciting programme of cyber related demonstrations and presentations – all taking place in a specially created area.

Security & Policing is the most important event of the year for RepKnight, especially as an SME. It is THE most efficient way for us to demo new features of our product to a very specific global audience.

WHAT OUR PREVIOUS EXHIBITORS SAID

Having exhibited at The Security and Policing Exhibition since its inception, I can say that the 2015 Exhibition was without a doubt a complete success. Quality visitors including “End Users” and “Budget Holders” from around the world attended, making this a “must be at” event for any company conducting international business or intending to do so.

Hidden Technology Systems International Ltd

Security and Policing at Farnborough is a must attend event for Qioptiq. No other event gives us access to the right people in one location whilst enabling us to demonstrate our latest Night Vision, Thermal and Surveillance equipment. This is a well organised and well supported event..

Qioptiq

Security and Policing has become an increasingly important event in Motorola Solutions' business calendar. It provides an excellent opportunity to engage and present our public safety technology and solutions to high level decision makers from both existing and potential new customers from around the globe.

Motorola Solutions UK Ltd.

Security & Policing 2015 was a great event, well organised and perfect for networking. As exhibitors we had the chance to engage with industry professionals and experts from across the globe. Having attended S&P since 2010 we've found that we repeatedly gain high quality contacts and opportunities, converting into new business. We are looking forward to Security & Policing 2016 and recommend this event as a must for any company in the industry.
